

BASIC FINANCIAL REVIEW TOOL (2016 BOOKS)

PLEASE COMPLETE DURING 2017 FOR THE 2016 BOOKS

Almost every day we see news articles about churches or other non-profit organizations that are coming under suspicion of misuse of non-profit, tax-exempt funds. Part of your Presbytery's role is helping our churches remain above suspicion when it comes to financial matters--without creating unnecessary burdens for the local church.

Constitutional Basis

Finances (G-3.0113)

Each council shall prepare and adopt a budget to support the church's mission within its area. A full financial review of all financial books and records shall be conducted every year by a public accountant or committee of members versed in accounting procedures. Reviewers should not be related to the treasurer(s). [Terminology in this section is meant to provide general guidance and is not intended to require or not require specific audit procedures or practices as understood within the professional accounting community.]

Finances(G-3.0205)

In addition to those responsibilities described in G-3.0113, the session shall prepare and adopt a budget and determine the distribution of the congregation's benevolences. It shall authorize offerings for Christian purposes and shall account for the proceeds of such offerings and their disbursement. It shall provide full information to the congregation concerning its decisions in such matters.

The session shall elect a treasurer for such term as the session shall decide and shall supervise his or her work or delegate that supervision to a board of deacons or trustees. Those in charge of various congregational funds shall report at least annually to the session and more often as requested. Sessions may provide by rule for standard financial practices of the congregation, but shall in no case fail to observe the following procedures:

- a) All offerings shall be counted and recorded by at least two duly appointed persons, or by one fidelity bonded person;
- b) Financial books and records adequate to reflect all financial transactions shall be kept and shall be open to inspection by authorized church officers at reasonable times;
- c) Periodic, and in no case less than annual, reports of all financial activities shall be made to the session or entity vested with financial oversight.

Full Financial Review/Audit Committee

Many churches cannot justify the expense of an audit by an outside public accounting firm and so rely on the services of an "audit committee".

To help provide continuity, it is recommended that;

- a) an "audit committee" be provided for in the congregation bylaws, it include at least two, preferably three, members versed in bookkeeping and/or accounting procedures and principles, and,
- b) its members be elected by the congregation or appointed by the session for rotating terms. Please make sure the members of the audit committee are not related to the treasurer, to each other, to the financial secretary, or to members of the finance committee. If possible, try not to use active elders (or trustees, if the congregation has separate trustees).

- a copy of the approved budget for the year being audited. (Likely the same as those in the annual report; if desired, simply attach a copy of that report.) Attach comments & suggestions of the Review Committee.

[Much of this information needs to be gathered once and then can be updated each year.]

*The following walks you through a "general review"; checkmark indicates completed. For smaller churches; if the Treasurer has all materials ready (including all checks and check records) for the Review Committee, the following should take 3 people about 3+ hours to complete; if it takes longer, you probably have very complex books, lots of assets, or need an outside audit (larger churches will need proportionately more time.):
